DSI's Westbury® Aluminum Railing is a Superior Choice for Decks and Porches

Bremen, IN., March 9, 2022. Digger Specialties Inc. (DSI) manufactures a variety of building products highlighted by its Westbury® brand of Aluminum Railing. DSI was founded in 1983 and has focused on the development of innovative building products. DSI's entry into the aluminum railing business began in 2008. Today, the Westbury® Aluminum Railing brand is the North American industry leader in the aluminum railing product category.

Westbury® Aluminum Railing is the perfect railing system to enhance any deck or porch where wood, composite or PVC deck boards are used. Westbury® railing offers important advantages over other railing products including durability, minimal maintenance, ease of installation, and distinctive appearance. DSI's proprietary 10 step powder coating process provides a long-lasting finish that is highly resistant to the elements.

The Westbury® Aluminum Railing product line is the most extensive in the industry. Westbury VertiCable® railing, and Veranda glass railing systems are designed to offer unobstructed views. Tuscany, Riviera, and Montego railing designs provide distinctive profiles for classic to contemporary elegance. For those who wish to have the benefits of aluminum railing but want screened in spaces, ScreenRail presents another option.

Westbury® railing systems are available in an industry leading 12 standard colors with the option to obtain custom colors through special order. Both smooth and textured surfaces are available. Westbury® Aluminum Railing is available at many lumberyards and home centers throughout the U.S. All Westbury railing systems are covered by DSI's Aluminum Lifetime Limited Warranty.
